WATER

SABEEL

سبیل

Free, clean drinking water for everyone who passes. Every sip, a Sadaqah Jariyah.

ACTIVE

— What it is

SABEEL gives clean, safe drinking water free to those who need it. Over the years, under SABEEL and our earlier Water for Life work, Taalug Foundation has delivered a number of water projects: hand pumps, water points and drinking water for rural and flood-affected communities.

Our current flagship is at Surraya Health Care: a full reverse-osmosis plant and a seven-tap public water wall on the street, being restored to serve every passer-by, every day of the year.

— Who and where

Rural and flood-affected communities in Pakistan, and passers-by, children, mothers and patients at Surraya Health Care, Shah Faisal Colony, Karachi.

— What SABEEL does

- Hand pumps and water points for villages
- Drinking water for flood-affected families
- A public RO water wall at Surraya Health Care
- 7 public taps, open 365 days a year
- Laboratory-tested water
- Water points in loving memory of your family

— How it is designed

- Earlier projects: hand pumps, water points and flood relief water, under SABEEL and Water for Life
- Now: the RO plant and 7-tap wall at Surraya Health Care, designed for up to 1,000 people and 5,000 litres a day
- New water points in villages, as donors sponsor them

— Why it matters

Clean water is the first medicine. A public tap that never closes serves everyone, and its reward continues for as long as it flows.
